High School Contest Trophies Go to All Parts of Northwest Missouri

Keen Competition and Fine Sportsmanship Outstanding Among the 1600 Students Who Participated in the Sixty-Five Events Held Here Last Week. —Curricular Contests Increase in Popularity.

Thirty-five shiny silver loving cups and more than a hundred gold and silver medals with a sprinkling of pennants and other trophies are now scattered over Northwest Missouri, carried home last week by the winners in the sixty-five different high school contests held here at the College last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Practically fifteen hundred high school students from seventy-three high schools participated in these contests—a record both in number of schools and individual entries. Good roads and fair weather brought an unprecedented number of visitors. However, the good roads were a handicap to the small number coming by train as the minimum of 150 railroad certificates, the number required to secure fare and half, was not secured.

All indoor contest Thursday and Friday were attended by large crowds, Friday night the auditorium being filled at least fifteen minutes before the music program started. At least two or three hundred persons were turned away for lack of room.

Winners Well Distributed

The winners in the different contests were well distributed among the competing schools. More than three-fourths of the schools entered placed in some event or won points in one or both of the track meets. Maryville High School led with the largest number of winnings but the law of averages favored this school for it had entries in practically every contest with a total of 165 students participating.

Most of the contests had a large number of entries. Interest and registration in the curricular contests this year went forth by leaps and bounds, the mathematics, language and history contests showed spirited competition among many students.

Music Contests Popular

The music contests, always a popular feature of the three-day affair, more than held their own in interest and entries. The Mound City band and orchestra, under the able direction of L. P. Thonure, carried off first honors in class A. Particularly was the orchestra number, "Sonarando" by Rossini, well rendered and the dashing new costumes of its members evoked many favorable comments from the large audience. Maryville placed second in the Class A orchestra and Bethany was third. In the band the Bethany organization under the direction of Conductor Woodhall, performed creditably and should be watched by the other schools next year.

In the class B orchestra Edgerton again appeared on top after being nosed out last year by New Hampton. Rock Port placed second. In the class B chorus Gaynor had no competition.

In the class A chorus Bethany carried off first honors with a polished rendition of Gounod's "Unfold Ye Portals." Maryville was the other entry in class A chorus.

In the girls' glee club contest the Excelsior Springs ladies carried away the cup with the pleasing number of "Rain" by Pearl Curran. Competition was keen in this event; Tarkio and Bethany tying for second place. In the boys' glee club Maryville won first with "My Bonnie Lass" by Thomas Morley. Bethany won second in this contest.

The boys' quartets were as popular as ever this year with the New Hampton four winning on "Lullaby O' Mine" by Walt. Ridgeway placed second with "Kentucky Babe" by Gilber.

The Solo Contests

First place in the violin solo went to Maurice Coter of Cameron. However, Verma Lee of Stewartville gave Coter some keen competition, for the judges score sheet revealed only two points difference. Third place was filled by Dorothy Lee Birt of Edgerton. There were seven entries in this contest. The selections played by the winners were: "Legende" by Balm played by Mr. Coter; "Meditation" by "Thurs" by Massenet played by Miss Lyon and Concert No. 1 A Minor by Arcolay played by Miss Birt.

Cameron Wins Cornet

"Carnival of Venice" by Herbert L. Clarke was the selection. Kermit Knoch of Cameron played to win first place in the cornet solo contest.

Helen Sims of Burlington Junction took second with her selection, "My Old Kentucky Home" by Goldman. Third place was taken by Newland West of Bethany. His selection was "Trump Trump Trump" by Barnhouse.

There were seven entries in cornet solo work. There were just five points mastery of technique. She was at her best in the works of Krieger, demanding great precision and vivid coloring, but also gave feeling to her rendition of two lullabies.

Vernon Barrett, tenor, of Hopkins, a student, was in pleasing voice, singing popular and tuneful compositions of Lehmann, Chidman, Speaks and McGill. William Holdridge, pianist and accompanist, limited himself to Chopin's Fantasia Impromptu and an encore, Waltz in A Flat, by Brahms. Ease of execution, that almost bordered on repression but gave a decided graceful effect, characterized his playing.

World Teachers Confer Honor On Mr. Lamkin

Is Elected Director of World Federation of Education Associations—Only Three Are From The United States.

A high honor, recognizing his standing among the educators of the United States, was given to President Lamkin last week when he was elected a member of the board of directors of the World Federation of Education Associations. His election was by unanimous decision of the members of the board.

Mr. Lamkin will succeed Dr. Walter R. Siders, superintendent of the Pocatello, Idaho, schools, who has resigned as a member of the board to become field secretary of the federation with headquarters in New York City. Lamkin will fill out Dr. Siders' unexpired term.

There are seventeen members on the board and three are from the United States. The other two in addition to Mr. Lamkin are Miss Selma M. Borchart of Washington, D. C., and Miss Annie Carleton Woodward of Somerville, Mass.

Other educators on the board include two from Canada, three from England, two from India, two from China, one from Ireland, one from Japan and one from Germany and two from Scotland. Augustus O. Thomas, state commissioner of education of Maine, is president of the federation.

The election of Mr. Lamkin was by votes of the members of the board. The board meets every two years and its next meeting will be held in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1929. The last meeting was held at Toronto, Canada.

It is considered a high honor in educational circles to be a member of the board of the federation, and the appointment is recognition of Mr. Lamkin's standing in these circles.

To the victors belong the spoils! The championship trophies of the nineteenth annual track and field meet for the High Schools of Northwest Missouri, held here at the College last Saturday, went to St. Joseph Benton for Class A with 49 1-2 points and Ridgeway for Class B with 24 points. 5-Weeks Short Term Opens; 218 Students Enroll

Registration First Two Days Show Increase of Fifty-Two Students Over Last Year—Maximum of Five Hours Credit For the Course.

A record enrollment for the Spring Short Term was made during registration the first of this week when 218 students signed up for the five weeks period. This represents an increase of fifty-two over last year when the total of 166 registered for the course.

Two hundred more students makes a noticeable difference in the halls and particularly at Assembly, when the auditorium is comfortably filled.

Short term students may earn a maximum of five hours for the five weeks. Under the plan being used now a student takes two and a half hour courses, but each class meets twice daily for the equivalent of a regular term.

Eleven M Men Take the "Third Degree"

Actual initiation of the eleven new members of the "M" Club was first apparent when the entire crew of newly elected "pledges" went to their classes last Wednesday in overalls or like apparel.

As assembly began, the entire crew marched in, a man at each end of the line carrying one of the large College flags, with a white "M" on a green background. A march was made to the front seats of the assembly—that row where students rarely sit.

Those who were initiated are: Truman Scott, Mack Graham, Carroll Russell, Clarence Pugh, Howard Iba, Lloyd Harris, Raymond McKee, Frank Daniels, Riley Davison, John Smith, Leo Cox.

N. U. Girl Debaters Can't Come to S. T. C.

The College debaters will not have the opportunity of meeting the girls debating team of Northwestern University here, because the College is not able to furnish the guarantee asked for by them.

The affirmative team, composed of Fred Smith, Frank Tobow, and Gerald Carroll, lost to Omaha University here on Friday, April 13.

The next debates will be with the Teachers Colleges and will not be held until some time in May. No definite dates have been made.

Maryville Musicians Please at Trenton

Miss Dvorak and Mr. Holdridge of the Conservatory of Music faculty and Vernon Barrett, graduate student, went to Trenton last week to give a concert before the Women's club there. A large crowd greeted the Maryville musicians in the High School auditorium.

The Trenton Republican-Tribune carried the following story of the concert: "The custom of topping off the social and civic calendar with a musical event appears to be gaining favor with federated women's clubs in Trenton. It is a delightful practice, sponsored Sunday by the Business and Professional Women's Club and followed up Tuesday night by the XCIX Club, and if the club members have enjoyed the recitals one-half as much as their guests, then everyone is grateful.

"Three artists of more than ordinary ability charmed a large audience in the auditorium of the Trenton High School, Tuesday night. It did not appear that invitation to the program had been declined and the society editor of the Republican-Times could say with justification that 'a good time was had by all.'"

"The XCIX Club's annual guest affair, closing the season and celebrating the twenty-ninth anniversary of the organization's founding, introduced three musicians from the State Teachers College, Maryville.

"Miss Helen Dvorak, violinist, gave a splendid performance, her playing being marked by considerable fire and

COLLEGE OATH
"We will never bring disgrace to this college by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the truth and sacred things of the college. We will respect and obey the college laws and do our best to make a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Kiddies Consume "Samples" on Visit to Ice Cream Plant

Friday afternoon, the third-grade children of the training school, all happy and feeling like adventurers, made a visit to the Nodaway Creamery Co. The class of eight girls was accompanied by their practice teacher, Veronica Fisher.

The trip was one which kept every eye open and watching eagerly. First the children were shown how cream was tested, how to tell the amount of butter-fat in the cream, etc. One little girl was much alarmed when the acid turned the cream in the test tube dark, but she soon learned that it wasn't because the cream had disease germs in it or was unwholesome in any way.

Then came the making of ice cream. The children saw the complete process from the pouring of the cream to the solidly frozen ice cream. After the machinery has stirred the cream about ten, or fifteen minutes and the ice cream was still soft, it was transferred to a ten gallon shipping container and then placed in a room where the temperature was zero or lower. It was left here until frozen solidly.

The children said it seemed like stepping from "summer into winter" by only a few steps.

When the making of the ice cream was completed, each child was asked to partake of at least two dishes of the delicious, looking ice cream, and of course this made a perfect ending for the trip to the Nodaway Creamery Co.

Auditorium Stage Is Being Enlarged

The needful enlargement of the stage in the auditorium has now been started. It will be large enough to seat at least three hundred people.

This will enable the chorus and glee club to present joint assemblies from the stage.

On such occasions as the Spring festivities when schools have large representations in contests which are given on the stage, they can easily be taken care of with the addition of larger floor space.

In the near future two new sets of doors will be placed at the east and the main entrances of the College.

These doors are made in the Manual training classes and so far one has already been put into use. Emmet Sims supervises the construction.

Social Hall Secures Original Painting

"Ducked" is the picture which has been chosen for Social Hall. It is one of four original paintings sent here by Mrs. Katherine Cherry, of St. Louis, at the request of Miss DeLuce.

We owe the possession of this interesting painting to the Eureka Society and the Art Club. After disbanding, some time ago, the society, finding they had a sum of money left, voted to give something to the school. Through the help of the Art Club, whose members were assessed a small amount, enough money was raised to buy a painting.

The artist, Mrs. Katherine Cherry, is prominent in St. Louis as a painter, teacher and ceromle painter. She is connected with the "Principia," a Christian Science School, one of the biggest schools in the United States. Mrs. Cherry is also a member of the St. Louis Artists Guild, Society of Arts and Crafts, St. Louis Art League, Athan Ceromle Club and the Society of Women Painters.

Her paintings are represented at the Pennsylvania Academy, Philadelphia, Chicago Art Institute and the St. Louis Public Library and she has taken prizes in St. Louis, The Artists Guild, The Art League and the J. Ogden Armour Prize at Chicago Institute.

During the summer Mrs. Cherry paints largely along the coast of Maine and New England, particularly Gloucester Harbor.

Y.W.C.A. Discusses Religion--Politics

Florence Seat and Jean Freeland discussed the question "To what extent should religious affiliations influence our politics," at Y. W. this week.

Miss Seat discussed the change of attitude toward religion. "Puritans came for religious freedom but they believed to have it they must shut all other people out," she said. "Their attitude was intolerant toward all other religious bodies. William Penn established the first colony giving complete religious freedom. At that time the churches were supported by taxation same as the schools, and people were forced to attend, but this was done away with in the seventeenth century and a citizen now takes his religion, not his politics, from the church."

Miss Freeland discussed the relation of the Constitution to religious freedom at the first, and only by an amendment which is not probable, could this be taken away from us," she said. "How much will our protestant attitude influence our vote this fall?"

The topic for discussion next Tuesday is "Science in Religion."

All girls are urged to come.

College High School

The College High School play "Robin Hood" has been postponed until May 7. A few more of the characters have been chosen. Robert Lawrence will take the part of the Minstrel; Lester Hall will take the part of Guy of Gisbourne; Clarence Lloyd will take the part of Midge the Miller; Everett O' Day and Laverne Campbell are to be soldiers.

The Crestomath and Theophanion Literary societies held their vocal contests at assembly last Friday. Beatrice Cox represented the Theophanions and Rebecca Shell represented the Crestomaths. Beatrice Cox won first place and Rebecca Shell second. The judges were Ruth Lawrence, Vernon Barrett, and Chilton Ross. The other vocal contests will be held the coming Friday.

Lorene Heitman and Clarence Lloyd were awarded certificates of merit by the Home Maker's Educational Service, Freeport, New York, for writing the best essay in the home economics class in the College high school. The subject of Clarence Lloyd's essay was marketing. This was a project in connection with the foods class taught by Hesterlynn Shipp and the subject of Miss Heitman's essay was "Marketing," a project in connection with the Smith Hughes classes taught by Leta Maharg and Leta Dowden.

What's a Colossus?

Dinner for Miss Franken

Miss Katherine Franken's two Psychology classes in St. Joseph gave her a dinner party last Saturday noon. There were thirty-seven present, including Miss Franken. After the dinner the classes had cars ready and they took a drive over the new boulevards and visited points of interest in St. Joseph.

Fine Arts Class Displays Exhibit

The work of the Fine Arts class of the Spring Quarter will be on exhibition for the spring contest to be held next week. This exhibition will be in the display case on the second floor. This course is one which would be practical to the person training for the teaching profession, it therefore consists of health posters, posters advertising school events and entertainments and various other types of posters the teacher might use.

Some of the attractive posters were made by Darlene Garten, Helen Miller, Helen McMahon, Mildred Gregory, Frances Remus, Eleanor Hastings, Pauline Grier and Louise Smith. The poster made by Frances Remus would certainly attract attention especially in the College. The idea conveyed on her poster was, "Let's make the library a place for study."

Other types of posters were concerning the alphabet. Each member of the class had one letter of the alphabet and made health posters representing the letter, also charts of the alphabet were made.

Reverend Dewar Recovering

After an illness due to a severe reaction to a vaccination for smallpox Reverend Dewar was able to return to his Bible class Tuesday. His illness kept him from his classes since Wednesday of last week.

Perrin Loan Fund Beginning to Grow

Fifteen dollars has already been contributed to the proposed Perrin Memorial Student Loan Fund, which was originated by Mrs. Mildred Kiser Daniels, in honor of Mrs. Alice R. Perrin, for many years the assistant dean of women. This will be augmented by $10 given this week by the Wesleyan Bible Class of the First Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Perrin was a member.

All contributions should be sent to Miss Anthony, who is acting as treasurer. The contributions are being held in a savings account until a sufficient amount has accumulated to make loans to College students.

It is impossible to send a circular to all the students who have attended college and known Mrs. Perrin. It will be appreciated if students acquainted with the movement will tell their friends who may not know of it.

The contributions to the fund is not limited to College students. Any friend or acquaintance wishing to help in this worthy movement may contribute to the fund. In speaking of the Memorial Fund, President Lamkin said, "It is a fine thing and a fine tribute to Mrs. Perrin. We will appreciate any contributions from one dollar up."

At the present the student member of the committee in charge of the fund has not been appointed.

Biology Lab. Gets Shipment of Frogs

Frogs are the creatures that might have attracted your attention had you been in the biology laboratory Wednesday afternoon when a little box labeled "Live Animals" was opened by Mr. Garrett. They were secured from the Biological Supply Store of Chicago for objects of study by our biology department.

Although they were well packed the lack of moisture caused the death of five of the fourteen received. The packing consisted of long heavy moss such as grows in the swamps and goes to form peat bogs. The frogs themselves were in a sack, which was spread upon the moist moss. There was a little opening in the top of the box so that an adequate supply of air would be insured.

Mr. Garrett was well satisfied with the specimens which arrived safely and they became very active and lively after being placed in water a short time.

This is quite an addition to our live specimen collection in the laboratory which already consisted of three frogs, a tiny turtle, a salamander, a toad and two horned lizards.

Northwest Mo. H.S. Association Elects Officers

L. E. Ziegler Re-elected President, E. R. Adams of Tarkio, Vice-president, and F. E. Vandersloot, St. Joseph, Secretary.

By a unanimous vote the Northwest Missouri High School Athletic Association, at its annual meeting at the College Saturday, re-elected the present officers for the ensuing year. They are:

President, L. E. Ziegler, Maryville. Vice-president, E. R. Adams, Tarkio. Recording secretary, F. E. Vandersloot, St. Joseph.

Treasurer and corresponding secretary, M. E. Sealeman.

J. M. Broadbent, Martinsville, was re-elected as a member of the board of control for three years.

The members of the association who were present at the meeting were S. W. Skelton, New Hampton; Mr. Broadbent; Mr. Adams; W. H. McDonald, Trenton; H. R. Dieterich, Maryville; Mr. Ziegler, Mr. Vandersloot; President J. W. Lamkin of the State Teachers College; J. F. Thornton, Bigelow; and M. C. Hudson, Westboro.

The other members of the board of control are Mr. Broadbent, U. L. Riley, Maitland, and the officers.

Medal to Debate Runner-Up

The association voted to give a medal to the high school which has a runner-up in the district debate. This was done because at the present time the only award is made by the College to the winner and the Association thought some form of recognition should go to the second best debate team.

The association endorsed the College on its method of conducting the annual high school contests and athletic events. This endorsement was made following a discussion relative to fees charged by the College for participating students, in view of the fact that other schools in Missouri conduct needs without charging entry fees.

The meeting was given over to a general discussion concerning the Maryville contests, and it was brought out that the annual spring contest here is the biggest event of the year. The members of the association, of whom are connected with high schools in the district, heartily approved the trend toward more scholastic contests and placing of less emphasis on the track meet.

Some of the members told of the means they had employed to finance the trips and payment of entry fees of their students in the spring contests, some stating the school boards pay in full, others that the students bear part of the expenses, and in some places entertainments are given, the receipts being used to defray the expenses to the spring contests.

Growing Each Year.

That the contests are growing each year, was borne out by the fact nearly 1,500 students were taking part this week.

Means of deciding whom the respective schools should send here to the contests was discussed. Try-outs were held in some schools, a certain standard fixed in other places, based on the general average of the spring contests, while in still others the teachers select the competing students.

Because of the mounting number of entries it was held by some that only the best students should compete in the contests here. However, it was agreed by all that there is much benefit to be derived from the contests in experience gained, the atmosphere of competition and the knowledge derived. The spring contests serve as a motive all during the year for the students to strive to earn a trip here, and better standards and work is done in an indirect way back at the high schools, according to the educators.

Mr. Ziegler, who presided, spoke of the sub-district elimination basketball tournaments which were held in Northwest Missouri for the first time this year, stating that the question had come up, how a deficit should be taken care of at a sub-district tournament and if there was a profit, to whom it should go. The state board felt that in view of the fact the state association would have to bear any deficits, any profits arising should go into its coffers.

The sub-district tournaments were believed to be a forward move, although there are a few details which should be ironed out, the association members agreed.

Although the functions of the Association are diminishing each year because of the growing importance of the state association, the members felt the Northwest Missouri high school athletic association should not be allowed to cease.

Dramatic Club Has Interesting Program

An interesting program was given at the Dramatics Club last Friday. "The Technique of Acting" was the topic discussed by three members of the play directing class. Mary Fields talked about "Stage Technique," Sue Hankins about "Forms of the Drama" and "Elements of a Good Play," and Ed Grubb about "Preparing a Play for Production."

The next meeting will be held Tuesday in Social Hall when a one-act Irish play, "The Best of All Ways," will be given. The cast for the play is: Aileen Sheridan, an Irish Beauty; Sue Hankins, her pretty sister; Ruth Mackey, Tim Joyce, guard; Margaret Morris, Terrence, Delane; Katherine Gray, the property committee is composed of Laura Lee Hunt, Grace Horn and Ruth Jensen, and the prompter is Lois Daku.

"How is it that young Jones is always at the head of the class, while you are at the bottom?" The boy looked at his father reproachfully. "You forget, Dad," he said kindly, "that Jones has awfully clever parents."

CHORUS SCENE FROM OPERA "AIDA"

The Festival Opera Company presents the grand opera

"AIDA"

Assisted by the College Chorus
College Orchestra and Soloists

During the past seven years the College has brought to Maryville a good many impressive entertainments. But it has never attempted as pretentious a program as the one to be given Friday evening of this week, May 4. At this time the Cramer Festival Opera Company, assisted by the College chorus, the College orchestra, two soloists from Maryville, Katherine Gray and Vernon Barrett, and six distinguished opera stars, will give the grand opera, "Aida."

"Aida" is one of the best known and best liked of grand operas. The story is taken from the period when the Pharaohs ruled over Egypt and the plot is built around "Aida," an Ethiopian slave girl in the time of Amonasro, King of Ethiopia.

Splendor and impressiveness mark every moment of the opera. All of the costumes and scenery and staff are being furnished by the Festival Company. Dr. Attico Bernabini, chorus master for the Chicago Civic Opera Company, has been making regular trips to Maryville for the joint rehearsals of the orchestra and chorus which has been working on the opera all winter. This same production is being given in St. Joseph this week with the College orchestra and a part of the College chorus participating.

THE STORY OF THE OPERA

At the period when the Pharaohs ruled over Egypt, Aida, daughter of Amonasro, King of Ethiopia, having fallen into the hands of the Egyptians as a prisoner, was given as a slave to Amneris by her father, the King of Egypt. The lovely Aida soon became a bosom companion to Amneris. Radames, the young general, is secretly loved by Amneris, but his affections are for Aida, the slave girl.

ACT I

Scene 1. Interior of Palace. Radames tells Radames that he is the favored one of the gods to command the Egyptian hosts. Radames' dreams of returning as a conqueror to claim his "Heavenly Aida," are broken by Amneris, the King's daughter, who suspects his dreams are not of herself. A messenger enters with the news of the Ethiopian uprising under Amonasro. Aida sings "Return Victorious," even knowing he goes forth against his father!

Scene 2. Temple of Ptah. Radames seeks the blessing of the gods, is solemnly blessed and receives the sacred armor from Ramfis in a highly ritualistic service. The High Priestess sings a very beautiful devotional hymn.

ACT II

Scene 1. Hall in Amneris' Apartment. Radames returning, Amneris orders her women bedeck her in her finest, meanwhile they sing his praises and Amneris takes up the song. Aida enters. Amneris warns her of the knowledge of her love for Radames. Dazed, Aida can but plead for mercy, for, although a princess, she is Amneris' slave.

Scene 2. Without the City Walls.

Radames celebrates his triumphant return, bringing spoils and slaves, among whom is Amonasro disguised as an officer. The pomp and splendor of this scene are unsurpassed by anything in all drama or opera. Through Radames' intercession, the prisoners are spared, but Amonasro is held as a hostage. Previously persuaded by Amneris, the King bestows the hand of his daughter in marriage to Radames as a reward for his success. Radames dare not refuse, and Amneris is triumphant, for she has won.

ACT III

The banks of the Nile. On the evening before her marriage, Amneris goes into the temple with Ramfis to make her vows to Isis. Aida secretly follows to meet Radames, is found by her father, Amonasro, who persuades her to learn from Radames the route of the coming march. Amonasro overhears and presents himself in his true rank. Returning from the temple, Amneris discovers them and denounces Radames to the guards as a traitor.

ACT IV

Scene 1. Corridor in the Palace. Repenting her actions, Amneris now seeks to save Radames for herself, offering to secure his release if he will but renounce Aida. At his refusal, this vain princess is again angered. Radames is conducted into the judgment room, and when questioned, remains silent. Ramfis sentences him to be buried alive, the punishment of a traitor.

Scene 2. The Death-Tomb. While the priests and priestesses perform the ceremonial temple service, Radames is seen in the tomb. Aida steals to his side, for she has come to die with him. They sing a last farewell to Earth.

Miss Evelyn Kimbel & Co., official, entered as the Westboro track team, carried off the meet cup at the sixth annual girls' track and field meet held here at the College last Friday. Miss Kimbel won four firsts and her teammates won a second and third to give them 25 points and the trophy.

With the close of the meet, five new records were placed on the books and a new track queen was crowned. She received four firsts, the maximum number allowed, and her name was placed on the books three times. Miss Evelyn Kimbel, a junior of the Westboro high school, was entered in five events, took four firsts and therefore could not qualify in the high jump although she cleared the bar at 4 feet 4 inches, the mark made by first place winner.

A Popular Entry.
This flaxen haired beauty, who carried the number 425 became a popular entry soon after the meet started. She came in first in the 60-yard dash, 75-yard dash and running broad jump. A colleague, Thacker, took third in the baseball throw to add two more points to Westboro's total. Running with Kimbel in the 220-yard relay were Cain, Thacker and Norton, who were awarded second place in the event making the necessary points to overcome any chance of Plattsburg, nearest rival and last year's winner, from nosing out the Atchison county school.

Six records went by the board in yesterday's meet, but one was not allowed when Helena was disqualified in the shuttle relay.

Miss Kimbel accounted for three of the new records, establishing a mark for the first time of 10 seconds in the 75-yard low hurdles, a new event; lowering the 75-yard dash from 9 1-5 seconds, made by Hale of Eagleville in 1925, to 9 flat; and making a leap of 15 feet 2 1/2 inches in the running broad jump, a record formerly held by Hale of Eagleville with a leap of 13 feet 11 1/2 inches in 1925.

Mowry of Tarkio hurled a regulation baseball 196 feet 2 inches to replace the old record of 189 feet made by Stanley of Princeton in 1927.

220-Yard Relay Exciting.
The 220-yard relay was an exciting event, there being record time set in both heats. In the first heat Westboro clipped 1-10th of a second from the record of 29 seconds made by Plattsburg last year. However, in the second heat the quartet of Plattsburg runners covered the distance in 28.4 seconds to crowd Westboro out of first place.

When the shuttle relay was run off, Helena came in first in 41 3-5 seconds eclipsing a record of 41 9-10 seconds made by Savannah, but the judge disqualified the Helena sextet and the mark did not stand.

Kimbel, Westboro, 20 points.

If you run across an ant hill and are able to capture some alive try feeding them to the lizards. Caution should be taken that they are not disturbed for they are easily excited after a nice long sun-bath.

Materials have been ordered for the making of the cases necessary and it is believed that the actual construction work will soon begin. Already some material is available for this museum and it is thought that more will be added upon its completion.

Mrs. Grubb traced the development of the Pan-American Congress from its origin to the present time. She especially emphasized and explained its change from a political organization to one having more economical aspect.

A greater attendance of the members and also visitors would be welcomed and the information received is of such character as to well repay for time spent at the meetings.

College Sells Bull Calf from Prize Cow

"A cow that pays her way." Jolly Polly, pride of the College herd, dropped a bull calf last Monday April 9. D. O. Bell, who lives south of Maryville, bought the calf for $25. Mr. Kinnaird, chairman of the Agriculture department, disposes of all the bull calves as soon as possible, while the heifer calves are kept to strengthen the herd. In this manner new blood is kept continually coming into the herd, and it is possible at all times to weed out "boarders" or cows which are not a profitable investment.

Jolly Polly at the age of seven years produced in seven months 6,994.3 lbs. of milk, or 844 gallons. She was bought by the State Teachers College in August 1924 for $175.00. Her dam, Fox's Jolly Girl, of the Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical College herd was the highest producing cow in that state for the month of March, 1924, when she produced 69 pounds of fat at thirteen years of age. At the age of seventeen she completed a test of 617.03 lbs. of fat in class AA in 355 days, carrying a calf 244 days at Oklahoma A. & M. College. Calved on October 5, 1920, she has dropped calves the last three years.

Jolly Polly was sired by Sultan's Trinity King, son of Majesty's Western King by Raleigh's Fairy Boy. Sultan's Trinity King had for dam Sultan's Happy Maid imported by W. R. Spann. Jolly Polly's maternal grand dam was Manor Polly also an imported cow.

Mr. Kinnaird, supervisor of the College herd, chose each cow which is a member, and an effort has always been made to have the best blood in the herd, at the same time taking into consideration high productive qualities. The milk produced by this herd is used by the College Cafeteria.

Other numbers were a vocal solo by Mrs. Carter and a reading "Seventeen" by Doris Wallace.
